

CITYGATE
HONG KONG, CHINA
CLIENT: NEWFOUNDWORLD

Citygate is the second phase and an extension of the Crescent project. This phase is a commercial mixed-use project located directly over the Hong Kong Mass Transit Railway Corp (MTRC) station and extends over the Lantau Airport Expressway towards the third phase of the project.

The fountain plaza is the town center and also as a foyer to the retail commercial square. The interactive fountain was designed by WET Design with synchronization to background music. This retail town center includes restaurants, super-market and sundry shops, movie theater, post office, daycare and a Class A office building. This blend of uses together with adjoining high density residential developments allows this transit-oriented development to become a true live-work new town. The project received a Hong Kong Institute of Architects Silver Medal award.

This project represents Leung's experience prior to forming LPD.
